

“Wish”

by

Brenna Strong

a wish made upon a star the fluff of a white dandelion a hope for something more wishes from our darkest places cracks and crevices of our souls betrays the facade

the truth of our intentions perhaps shown only through wishes